Katrina,

Sac and Fox Nation anticipates participating during the public comment period. The comments provided here is on behalf of myself only.

Clarification and corrections are needed that the waste in a significant portion of the plan is not "solid waste" or "waste material", but actually "hazardous waste" and should be correctly referred to as such. There are additional precautions and regulations that must be followed when handling and disposing of hazardous waste. Downgrading the classification of the materials present may result in personal injury, improper handling, improper disposal, etc.

Action Levels or Health-Based Screening Levels should not be increased to manufacture the imagery that EPA is cleaning up Superfund Sites at an increase pace. Protecting short and long term public health is consistent overall protection of human health and the environment.

Thank You,

Jeremy Fincher

Please find attached the electronic draft of the Source Control Proposed Plan. A formal letter requesting consultation and review will arrive in the mail.

The purpose of this document is to propose cleanup action for the source areas we have identified as the remedial investigation continues. This document is specific to these source areas and will provide us with a pathway to address these areas earlier in the process and prior to completing the full site characterization and risk assessments. All remaining aspects of the site (e.g., remedial investigation, feasibility study, risk assessments, etc) will continue concurrent with this proposed plan. Final site-wide documentation will be provided in the remedial investigation report, the human health and ecological risk assessments, the feasibility study, and finally the site-wide decision document.

The documents attached are listed and described below. Once comments are received and incorporated, the document will be formatted to include the figures and text boxes in the appropriate locations and the document will be release to the public for review and comment.

Thank you for your time and review. Please call with any questions.
